FIX THE ROADS

There should be more than one road leading from the various county seats around us into this county seat. The idea is to get official roads to divide the county as practicable and have no north to Indian Grove then east to the already established road at Guthridge Mill. The Marshall road will necessary have to cross at Glasgow then cross the Chariton River at Lewis Mill then the first road north to one mile west of Shannondale, then to Keytesville by the road through the Hills. The Fayette road should come between Shannondale and Salisbury and strike the northern highway north of the Allega corner.

There can be no doubt but that the committee which will finally determine various routes through this country will give the fund which will go to the maintenance of the roads selected by this committee as official routes, is more than we can comprehend. Get it out of your heads entirely that this road building is for the exclusive benefit of automobiles. Such is not the case and every one of you know it. The claim that you are not benefitted by good roads from every stand point from which a good road can be viewed is silly and unworthy of anybody with as much as a half of a progressive idea. Let each neighborhood agree with other neighborhoods along the route desired by all of them and then all turn in and build the road right, and you will stand a good chance of having it made the official road, otherwise you assuredly will not, but if it should not for any reason be declared the official road, you are still benefitted as much as you have expended in making the road. Look at the matter straight and you will see it that way and as soon as you see it, get busy.

Industrial School a Winner

The colored industrial school known as the Barlett Industrial and Agricultural School at Dalton under the management of Prof. N. C. Bruce is forging ahead in the right direction this year.

It has 50 acres of corn which which for this year is exceptionally good being sure to average more than 50 bu. to the acre, part of it showing a yield of 75 bu. and all of it on up-land.

The school won out in cooking exhibit at the Brunswick fair taking the blue ribbon on a pound cake and its bread, while not winning stood among the top exhibits.

Prof. T. R. Douglas occupying the chair of Agronomy at the State University was chief Judge at the Brunswick fair; and was so impressed with the exhibits of the Industrial School that he spent Saturday afternoon visiting the school and inspecting every department.

Prof. Douglas is well acquainted with the system and the surroundings established at Tuskegee, Ala., by Booker Washington and did not hesitate in saying that the Institution at Dalton is already accomplishing quite as much as that world famed seat for the education of negroes. Of course, Prof. Douglas takes into consideration the advantages enjoyed by the two Institutions and the primitive condition to some extent yet obtaining at the Dalton School, but in spite of the great endowment of the Tuskegee Institution and its years of accomplishment, he sees where the development of the race at Dalton is quite commendable. We fully agree with the Prof. and believe that the efforts of the Supt. of the Dalton Institution are being rewarded by not only qualifying the boys and girls in agriculture and domestic pursuits but that he is elevating them to a high conception of their own usefulness and incalculating principles which will develop character. So long as the school is conducted on the present lines it deserves encouragement from every quarter and undoubtedly will receive it.

New Continent Discovered

A new continent appears to have been discovered about the first of this month north of Siberia by Commander Wilkitsky of Russia. The latitude of the discovery is 81 longitude 104 east, and the discoverer says that he thinks the area is as great as that of Greenland. The land is uninhabited except by birds and beasts, and is volcanic, so far as he explored. He called it Nicholas Land and planted the Russian flag.

two within spitting distance of each other. The roads from Macon City should come into the county above Wien, through Bynumville, Musselfork, to Chraneville and then over the already established road. The road from Chillicothe should enter the county at Sumner, then east between Mendon and Rothville then south to one mile
